State Board of Health Plans to Take Action.

MORE LEGISLATION DESIRED

BETTER ENFORCEMENT OF PRESENT LAWS NEEDED.

The state board of health is alive to the fact that the drug habit is rapidly becoming one of the greatest evils to be combatted among the better classes in Sait Lake, and knowing from fivrestigation that the insidious habit is growing upon the people because they in their ignorance will persist in using quantities of patent medicines, headache cures, and pain relievers which contain these drugs, a vigorous effort is to be made by the board this winter to procure the passage of laws which will place closer restrictions on the sale of these articles.

Besides this, it is their purpose to see to it that the existing laws are complied with. Section 1726 of the Revised Statute of Utah says: "No person shall sell any poisons commonly recognized as such and especially (enumerating morphine, opium, chloroform, laudanum and others) without affixing to the box, vessel or package containing the same a red label bearing the name by the article and the word poison distinctly shown, and shall not deliver any of said poisons without satisfying himself that said poisons are to be used for legitimate purposes," and then goes on to except the cases when the article sold is upon the prescription of a physician. This is one of the laws that the board will try to have more stringently enforced. The state board of health is alive to Contents of Patent Medicines.

The investigation carried on under the direction of the board reveals that many patent medicines contain stimulants, narcoffics and oplates. Some soothing syrups were found to contain a percentage of morphine. A dose for an infant is supposed to be a spoonful. Inta number of these syrups one spoonful contained 1-30 of a grain of morphine, showing that the children brought up : These remedies would necessarily cry for them, for they would soon acquire the habit.

Some of the catarrhal remedies, according to the board's investigation, are among the most reprehensible concoctions. Many of these have cocaine to the extent of 2 per cent in them, and after the habitual user discovers what it is that relieves his pain so well and gives him instant relief, he drops the 5:ind of the little powders and buys the real article from the stores, and is soon almost beyond recall, for occaine is the most active and vicious druge. Headache tablets are also giving the hysicians who come in contact with his cases considerable worry, for these, then analyzed, are found to be made up ometimes of a small per cent of morning, and sometimes cocaine, acctanilidar caffeine, both of which two latter are ajurious to the heart as well as the rest, if the system.

A conservative estimate of the amount of morphine sold in the city during one month places it at 500 ounces. The fact that the worst kind of a fiend scarcely ever uses over two ounces a month conrys some idea of the extent of the that one drug alone.

Seek Relief in the Federal Court.

The effects of the blizzard winter of 1992-03 are beginning to be felt among the men who had staked their all on the cattle and sheep ranges of Wyoming. The most noticeable case thus far is that of Frank Beckstead, a Salt Lake wooi grower and sheepman, who filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy with Clerk Letcher of the United States court yesterday afternoon. Mr. Beckstead fixes his debts at $10,044.12, and his total assets at $35. Included in his total liabilities, according to the schedule filed by his attorneys. Stewart & Stewart, is the item of $2.190.31, in secured claims. The $35 mentioned as assets is the value placed on two suits of clothes and other wearing apparel.

According to the story as given out, Mr. Beckstead was one of the sufferers by the severe winter of 1902-03. He struggled against it with varying success until at last he was obliged to apply to the Plato Commission company of Omaha for a loan. A year ago his affairs were in such shape that he had to apply for further relief, and to secure the money advanced him he gave a mortgage to the combany on his ranch at Rock Springs, Wyo., comprising $25,000 acres of land and $3,000 head of sheep.

During the latter part of the year the Flato company, then acting as intermediary between the ranch owners and certain banks of the middle west, was compelled to call its loans to satisfy the demands of the loaning banks. The latter were the South Omaha National bank, the Omaha National bank and the Chicago National bank. To them the Flato company had transferred the mortgage held on Mr. Beckstead's property, and the banks, acting together, foreclosed and took all the sheep according to the terms of the chattel mortgage given them by the Flato company.

Mr. Beckstead's attorneys said last evening that they believed he would be able to adjust his affairs in time to the satisfaction of all parties concerned. and sheep ranges of Wyoming. The most noticeable case thus far is that of Frank Habitual drunkenness, brutal assaults, neglect of his wife while she was ill, and refusal to provide her with the necessaries of life, are some of the charges made by Josephine Louise Downey against her husband, Dr. William St. John Downey, in her petition for an annulment of their marriage vows filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of the district court.

The couple were married at Seattle, Wash., Oct. 8, 1901. Here are some of the specifications of her petition:

"That during the month of June of said last year, at Salt Lake City, Utah, the defendant, without just cause or excuse, and without any provocation, violently assaulted and struck the plaintiff in the face with his clenched fist, and thereby greatly brulsed and blackened her cyes, causing her great pain about the nose, and face, so that she was confined to her room in consequence of such assault for more than one week.

"That after assaulting plaintiff in the manner above alleged the defendant

"That after assaulting plaintiff in the manner, above alleged the defendant forthwith abandoned the premises where he and the plaintiff were residing together, and in taking his departure from the said premises said defendant warned the landlady thereof that he would not be responsible for the board or lodging of the said plaintiff or for anything furnished her."

It is further alleged that, while the plaintiff was ill during the month of Nowember, 1904, the defeudant not only abandoned her but warned the landlady that he would not be responsible for the rent of the premises occupied by the COMPROMISE $25,000 SUIT FOR $4,100.

The $25,000 damage suit of John S. Garrison against the American Smeltinz & Refining company, the former seeking damages because of the loss of his son while employed by the defendant corporation. has been compromised out of court for $4,100. The suit was flied about a year ago. Charles Howard Garrison, the 16-year-old son of the plaintiff, was at work in one of the refining company's ore bins when a load of ore was dumped into the bin. The lad was instantly killed. The complaint charged that the boy should have been instructed as to the dameers attending his work.

THE DRUG HABIT Frank Beckstead Obliged to Expresses Indignation at False Story that Wife is Daughter of John D. Lee.

> George Sutherland and his friends yesterday expressed much indignation at the publication in the Washington Star and other papers of the country of a story that Mrs. Sutherland is a daughter of John D. Lee, who was exdaughter of John D. Lee, who was executed in 1877 after being cohvicted of complicity in the Mountain Meadow massacre of 1857; that Mr. Sutherland was the favorite sen-in-law of John D. Lee, etc. Mr. Sutherland vigorously denounced the story as entirely false. "It is, I am convinced, started by political enemies of mine for political effect only," he said. "The story was told in Utah several years ago, but was never given publication until this time. Mrs. Sutherland is not even distantly related to John D. Lee. Her father's name was John Percival Lee, and the story, no doubt, grew out of the similarity of the names of the two men, larity of the names of the two men but there was no relationship. My re-collection is that John D. Lee was a native of New England. Certainly he was a northern man, while all of Mrs. Sutherland's immediate ancesters were southerners. Her father was a mem-ber of the same Virginia family of Lees to which General Robert E. Lee be-longed, and she is distantly related to deneral Lee. Her father's branch of the family moved from Virginia to Tennessee, where her father was born mother was a southern woman and the two families are in no way re-lated. The story is annoying because of its evident malice, although it is absurd because of its absolute falsity. I could not well have been the favorite son-in-law of John D. Lee because I was not married until six years after his death."

> Some of Mr. Sutherland's friends advised legal action, but Mr. Sutherland desires to avoid litigation if possible. He contented himself yesterday by sending the following telegram to the Washington Star, expressing an intention of instituting libel proceedings should his demand for a correction be ignored.

To the Evening Star, Washington, D. C.:—Your story connecting Mrs. Sutherland with John D. Lee is absolutely false. There is not the remotest relationship. I demand immediate and complete retraction, to be published as prominently as the original article. "GEORGE SUTHERLAND."
